CHAIR'S CORNER

Chairwoman Mari Lee

Within the last week, the Democratic Central Committee held a Town Meeting/Listening Session and its Annual Democratic Party Gala. Thank you to everyone who supported and helped make both successful.

We appreciate the input and feedback we heard at the listening session and look forward to more community engagement through additional sessions.

At the gala, we were pleased to have fellow Dems and officials from across the county and state join us for the camaraderie, to enjoy delicious food, and hear from our Special Guest Ken Ulman, Chair, Maryland Democratic Party.

We capped the evening by celebrating our honorees of the following awards:

Outstanding Democrat Award

Tony Soltero – Originally from Puerto Rico, Tony moved to MD in 1986 after graduating from Rice University in Houston, TX. He worked for 35 years as a software engineer for various employers.

In 2006, Tony joined the Democratic Central Committee (DCC), serving as treasurer for 16 years before retiring from the DCC in 2022. While serving as treasurer, Tony faithfully volunteered with his fellow Central Committee members at several annual community events. He also assisted with the finance and messaging committees.

Tony has also been active in other local organizations like the Frederick Center, volunteered for the Howard Dean campaign in 2003, and served as Treasurer for Kip Koontz's successful Aldermanic campaign in 2005.

Stephen A. Legacy Award

Nina Rollins - When not working at CareFirst BCBS, Nina passionately serves the Frederick community through her work at Asbury United Methodist Church, leading many community-focused initiatives, including, but not limited to, organizing their annual coat drive, Thanksgiving Day dinner, and food and hygiene product supply drives. She also helps organize Asbury's community block party, which allows local non-profits to share information on available services to help those who need it most. She has also consistently raised awareness of Asbury UMC's and local non-profit community-led programs and services through her Facebook page.

Nina cares about the people in "our beautiful Frederick community," as she calls it, and goes above and beyond to help ensure that all have access to available services and necessities.

Nina holds a Communications BA with a Public Relations concentration from Hood College and an MPS in the Psychology of Leadership from Pennsylvania State University.

Rising Star

Tomas Reyna - A 2023 graduate of Albright College, Tomas has a Bachelor of Science in Political Science and Government. He was president of their Political Science Club. After participating in his first campaign as a field director for Rep. Madeleine Dean, Tomas decided to gain as much practical experience as possible to supplement his studies. As a result, he worked with local races, building Democratic infrastructure and connections and aiding progressive groups.

After graduating, he did everything from phone banking to opposition research for a local Virginia candidate. He then took a break from elections to help local non-profits with aid efforts. Aside from volunteering with non-profits, he now mainly networks and assists with pro-democracy organizations, especially in uniting the center and further left elements of the Party, which are vital in this election.

Tomas currently serves on the executive board of the Young Democrats of Frederick County as their Secretary-Treasurer.

Outstanding Volunteer

Richard "Kap" Kaplowitz - Kap's political interest began after watching the Kennedy-Nixon debates with his parents.

He was inspired by Kennedy's call to "ask not what your country can do for you, ask what you can do for your country."

Kap worked for Democratic candidates through the 1980s and 1990s, including traveling out of state to Republican areas to canvass and work for presidential campaigns. He is a Super Captain with When We All Vote, and has conducted and mentored others in dozens of voter registration and education events.

He is the registrar for every voting campaign for his alma mater, Frederick Community College. He conservatively estimates he and his Voter Squad have registered hundreds of new voters and inspired hundreds to make plans and show up at the polls and vote.

Additionally, Kap has consistently volunteered with the local Party for many years.

Switching gears. Here's a sneak peek of other events in store for 2024.

"PLOW-FISH" - The Monocacy Plowman & Fisherman Club will kick off its first of three annual events in June 2024 at the home of Delegate Ken Kerr, with the second event in August at the home of Delegate Kris Fair. Stay tuned for the dates, guest speakers, and ticket/membership details. We plan to host the final "Plow-Fish" later this year.

CRAB FEAST - Join the Frederick County Democratic Party for a Crab Feast on Friday, 19 July—more details to come.

ANNUAL BEVERLY BYRON AWARD CELEBRATION - Join the Frederick County Democratic Party in late fall as we celebrate this year's recipient of the Beverly Byron Award. We will soon announce our honoree, event date, and location.

The Beverly Byron Award will be given annually to a female Democrat, who has demonstrated over a period of years a commitment to the Democratic Party, particularly to the empowerment of Democratic women to serve in elective office.

Switching gears again. As I mentioned last month, we are seeking volunteers to help us with Get Out The Vote (GOTV) activities for the primary. Check out our activities and sign up as a volunteer. After receiving your information, we will follow up with more details about the activity(ies) you selected.

Lastly, please remember to vote! You can Vote Early starting tomorrow (Thursday, 2 May), 2) Vote by Mail, or 3) Vote on Election Day (Tuesday, 14 May) at your assigned polling location from 7 AM to 8 PM. Please only choose one voting option. Make sure your friends and neighbors and family all vote as well.

The Rest of the Story – In Case You Missed It II

In August 2020, my column featured a list of those from Frederick County who have been delegates or alternates to Democratic National Conventions over the past 50 years. That list follows:

1972 (DNC in Miami Beach)

Bill Rodgers (McGovern delegate)
Ron Young (McGovern alternate)

1974 (Mid-term convention in Kansas City)

Tom Slater (alternate)

1976 (DNC in N.Y. City)

Ron Young (Carter delegate)
Wilbur Ford (Carter alternate)

1978 (Mid-term convention in Memphis)

Mary Schneider (delegate)

1980 (DNC in N.Y. City)

Tom Slater (Kennedy delegate)

1982 (Mid-term convention in Philadelphia)

Tom Slater (delegate)

1984 (DNC in San Francisco)

Geb Byron (Unpledged delegate)
Galen Clagett (Mondale delegate)
Beverly Byron (Member of Congress)

1988 (DNC in Atlanta)

Beverly Byron (Member of Congress)
Karen Blood (Dukakis delegate)

1992 (DNC in N.Y. City)

No one. Beverly Byron, as a member of Congress, was entitled to attend as a delegate but she did not attend)

1996 (DNC in Chicago)

Sue Hecht (Clinton delegate)

2000 (DNC in L.A.)

Sue Hecht (Gore delegate)
Rosemary McDermott (Bradley delegate)

2004 (DNC in Boston)

Sue Hecht (Unpledged Party & Elected Official)
Dan Rupli (Kerry delegate)
Jennifer Dougherty (Kerry delegate)

2008 (DNC in Denver)

Ann-Marie Luciano (Obama delegate)
Geb Byron (Obama delegate)
Sue Hecht (Obama delegate)
Tom Slater (Rules Committee)

Myrna Whitworth (8th c.d.Obama delegate)
Caitlyn Leiter-Mason (6th c.d. Obama delegate)
Mollie Byron (8th c.d. Obama delegate)
Boyce Rensberger (At Large Obama delegate)

2016 (DNC in Philadelphia)

No one

2020 (DNC Virtual)

Tom Slater (6th c.d. Biden delegate)
William Reid (8th c.d. Biden delegate)
Helen Kerr (8th c.d. Biden delegate)
Karen Lewis Young (6th c.d. Biden delegate)
Diane Fink (At Large Biden delegate)
Jessica Fitzwater (Biden alternate)
(Note: since this was a virtual convention, none of these delegates got to experience attending in person a national political convention)

Near the end of this year's primary ballot, just before the Board of Education candidates, you will find the candidates for delegate to the 2024 Democratic National Convention in Chicago. Three are from Frederick County: Jessica Fitzwater, Karen Lewis Young, and Tom Slater. Six will be elected from the 6th Congressional District at the May 14 primary election.

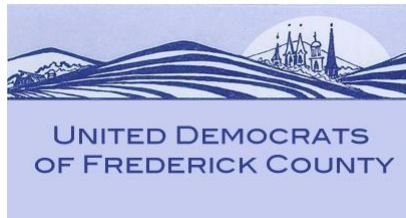

The process is somewhat confusing. Earlier in the year anyone who wanted to be a candidate for delegate to the Democratic National Convention, either uncommitted to a presidential candidate or committed to a presidential candidate, filed with the Board of Elections their candidacy application. Once the deadline for filing ended, the presidential campaigns (in Maryland that was the Biden, the Phillips, and the Williamson campaigns) were required to select those candidates that the campaign authorized to be associated with their presidential campaigns. No one filed to be a Phillips or Williamson delegate in Maryland's 6th C.D. Seventeen people in the 6th C.D. filed to be Biden delegates and six were designated by the Biden campaign to run as Biden delegates. District-level delegates are apportioned according to the votes received in the district for presidential candidates. The threshold is 15%, meaning that only presidential candidates that receive 15% or more of the vote in the district are entitled to delegates. If Phillips, Williamson, or Uncommitted to any presidential candidate receives 15% or more then they will be entitled to a delegate or delegates. Realistically, it is unlikely that Phillips or Williamson will get 15% of the vote based on primary elections in other states earlier this year. They also have no delegate candidates on the ballot. If Uncommitted to any presidential candidates receives 15% or more and becomes entitled to at least one delegate, then the person running as a delegate in the 6th congressional district pledged to Uncommitted who receives the most votes will be selected as an uncommitted delegate to the convention and the person running as a Biden delegate in the 6th congressional district who receives the least number of votes among the Biden delegate candidates will not be selected as a delegate to the convention. If Uncommitted to any presidential candidate does not receive 15% or more of the vote and Biden receives more than 15% (which, based on prior presidential primary elections this year is likely to be the case, but is not a sure thing), then all six delegates in the 6th congressional district pledged to Biden will be delegates to the Democratic National Convention. So far, in state presidential primary elections Biden has won 3,060 delegates and 27 uncommitted delegates have been selected.

Once the 63 district-level delegates are selected on May 14, the Democratic State Central Committee of Maryland will select 11 PLEOS (Pledged Party Leaders and Elected Officials), 21 At-Large Delegates, and eight alternates. Another 22 PLEOS are automatic delegates to the convention by virtue of their position such as Maryland's Governor, our two Democratic U.S. Senators, our seven Democratic members of the U.S. House of Representatives, and all members of the Democratic National Committee who reside in the State of Maryland. When the delegation to the Democratic convention is complete it will be composed of 117 delegates and eight alternates, will be equally divided between men and women and will reflect the demographic composition of Maryland's Democratic electorate as follows: 42% African American (52 delegates), 8% Hispanics (10 delegates), 6% Asian Americans and Pacific Islanders (7 delegates), 5% LGBTQ+ Americans (6 delegates), 13% People With Disabilities (14 delegates), and 30% Youth (36 delegates). Once Maryland's delegates to the convention have been selected the delegates will select three persons from Maryland to be on each of the convention's three standing committees (Credentials, Platform, and Rules). These nine people shall also be part of Maryland's representation at the Democratic National Convention. The Chair of Maryland's delegation will be selected by the National Convention Delegates and the chair will select four persons to be Maryland's Pages to the convention.

UNITED DEMOCRATS OF FREDERICK COUNTY

UDFC Members and Friends,

Please come on Monday, May 6, to Café 611 (611 North Market Street in downtown Frederick) and listen to our State Democratic Delegation of Frederick as they present a report on the recently completed General Assembly Session. Doors open at 6 PM and the meeting starts at 7 PM. Our speakers are from Maryland State Legislative District 3: Senator Karen Lewis Young, Delegate Karen Simpson, Delegate Ken Kerr, and Delegate Kris Fair. They will offer us their insights and observations on this session and recap their successes and accomplishments as well. Each will speak for 10 minutes, followed by a 20-minute joint Q&A with the audience.

On April 1, UDFC was delighted to have as our guests both Rae Gallagher and Dean Rose with the Frederick County Board of Education. Rae and Dean spoke of the many critical issues that face the Board- keeping in mind that Frederick is the fastest-growing county in Maryland: (Including, but not limited to the following)

- Adequate funding to build our schools today, and the need to plan ahead to fund schools ensuring that our children are taken care of in the future!
- Keeping and attracting good staff for the schools with competitive salaries and benefits

UDFC, along with the Central Committee, WDL, South County Dems, North County Dems, and the Young Dems came together to present a Forum for the US Senate candidates running in the May Primary. On April 6, they hosted several candidates at ERUCC in downtown Frederick: Angela Alsobrooks, Brian Frydenborg, and Marcellus Crews. The candidates had time to introduce themselves, respond to 5 questions composed by the club chairs, and make their concluding remarks.

The Democratic Clubs also hosted 13 of the Board of Education Candidates at a Forum at C. Burr Artz Library in Frederick on April 18th. The candidates there also had a chance to introduce themselves, respond to 5 questions, and make closing remarks.

Several UDFC members were able to attend the Western Maryland Democratic Summit at Rocky Gap Resort on April 11-12. It was a tremendous event with many of the primary candidates attending, as well as Gov. Wes Moore and Lt. Gov Aruna Miller. Lots of good speeches and memorable commentary were heard!

MARK YOUR CALENDAR! The UDFC Picnic will be held on Sunday, July 28th at the Ballenger Creek Community Room - See the flyer attached in this edition of the Banner!

WOMEN'S DEMOCRATIC LEAGUE OF FREDERICK COUNTY

It has been a busy month. The WDL, along with the other Democratic Clubs (UDFC, YDFC, North County Democrats, and South County Democrats) have cohosted two candidate forums this month. One was for the Democratic Senatorial Candidates and the other was for all the BOE candidates. Both forums were well-attended and gave the audiences a chance to compare and contrast the candidates' experiences and platforms.

I want to take this chance to encourage everyone to get out and vote. The primary election is on Tuesday, May 14. Early voting begins on Thursday, May 2 – Thursday, May 9 (including Saturday & Sunday). Request for mail-in ballots must be received by Tuesday, May 7th. Please make a plan to vote, double-check your polling, early voting, and drop locations, and don't forget to check with elderly family, friends, and neighbors to see if they need a ride.

Please go to www.frederickcountymd.gov/7654/Make-a-plan-to-vote for more information.

Please join us on May 20th for our regularly scheduled monthly meeting at Café 611 located at 611 North Market Street in Frederick. Our Guest speaker will be Kris Fair, State Delegate 3A, and Executive Director of the Frederick Center.

2024 Session Highlights

Residential Property Sales - Contract Disclosures - Superfund Sites

The bill requires sellers of residential properties to notify prospective buyers of the presence and location of a National Priorities Superfund Site within one mile via a signed addendum. The addendum will contain guidance on where to obtain information about superfund sites and the impacts they can have on human health. Finally, it will notify buyers of the right of rescission within five days.

Hospitals and Urgent Care Centers - Sepsis Protocol (Lochlin's Law)

Hospitals across the state will be required to implement a CDC protocol for sepsis and require staff training on the recognition and treatment of sepsis. Sepsis is the body's immune system attacking its own organs in response to an infection. Sepsis can be caused by any infection, and infections can be caused by viruses, wounds, bacteria, and fungus. Sepsis can quickly cause organ failure, hypertension, septic shock, and death. Hospitals that implemented sepsis protocols experienced a 26% reduction in sepsis deaths.

Mental Health - Assisted Outpatient Treatment Programs (AOT)

This legislation took three years to reach fruition. This year I collaborated with the Governor's staff to improve the bill. AOT will assist a severely mentally ill individual to be voluntarily, or involuntarily under specific circumstances, admitted to an outpatient mental health treatment program. This enabling legislation can be implemented by the counties or the Maryland Department of Health (MDH). The bill also defines a process for MDH and the court to partner in ensuring treatment that provides a path to independent functioning in the community.

Maryland Community College Promise Scholarship

Although the House did not vote on the Senate bill, we successfully got our cross-file through the Senate. The bill expands eligibility for students using the Maryland Community College Promise (MCCP) Scholarship to pay for non-credit, certificate, or registered apprenticeship programs. This effort will create greater access, preparation, and career opportunity by eliminating barriers to financial aid.

Critical Infrastructure Streamlining Act of 2024

Initially, this bill would have allowed data centers to bypass the Public Service Commission permitting process without sufficient environmental considerations. This caused significant anxiety in the environmental community. Legislative success can be measured by making a bill better. I collaborated with advocates to communicate our concerns and potential remedies. The definitive version achieves a better balance between economic and environmental goals.

Wildlife Highway Crossings

This legislation was intended to direct the State Highway Administration (SHA) to partner with the State's Department of Natural Resources to design and begin to implement road crossings for wildlife. These crossings, already found in other states, will allow animals such as deer to cross the road safely. This effort reduces animal-vehicle collisions, saves lives and money, and reconnects fragmented habitats. Our bill motivated SHA to apply for federal funds made available through both the Inflation Reduction Act and the Inflation, Infrastructure, and Jobs Act.

Frederick County - Juveniles - Truancy Reduction Pilot Program

This was a local bill, but I served as the lead advocate. Ensuring the well-being of our youth is one of the most essential duties of service. Since the pandemic, truancy rates across the state have surged. During the 2021-2022 school year, 75% of Maryland schools suffered from high or extreme levels of chronic absence among students. Similarly, during the 2022-2023 term, 29.8% of Maryland's kindergarten through 12th grade students were chronically absent.

Beyond the damage that missing so much school can have on a student's education, truancy is also a risk factor for drug use, juvenile and adult criminality, suicide attempts, and employment problems. A truancy court is a six-to-nine-month program to engage families and rehabilitate youth by addressing their specific needs. In Frederick County, we have an informal, voluntary Truancy Reduction Council program that has shown positive results. Forty-seven percent of the youth referred to the program are now achieving acceptable attendance rates. The program helps stabilize families by connecting them with resources to create an environment conducive to truancy reduction. This bill will authorize Frederick's truancy program to be eligible for grant funding and expand beyond its current model.

Education - Blueprint for Maryland's Future - Alterations

I worked throughout the 2023 interim with local educators to identify challenges facing the Education Blueprint. A key provision in my legislation permits county educators to develop appropriate criteria for dual enrollment courses. The language now permits the State Board of Education and the Accountability and Implementation Board to develop qualifying criteria to ensure greater funding predictability and control at the local level.

Bob Kresslein, Member, Democratic National Committee

On March 19, 2024, I attended a conference Call with Democratic National Committee Chair Jaime Harrison:

Chair Harrison introduced Ramsey Reid from the DNC to discuss the party efforts to monitor third party efforts to get on ballots around the country.

Reflecting back to 2016 impact in swing states is serious. The focus of those effort is to deploy resources early to monitor voter preferences and differentiate voters who are dissatisfied with choices vs voters from those who follow third party platforms.

The party need to hear from us all as what the 3rd party activists are saying and doing locally and anecdotally and to assure that candidates are following the rules especially with regards to financial disclosure.

With respect to Robert F. Kennedy, Jr. it is believed he is a stalking horse for Trump. Larger donors like Timothy Mello gives massively to both Trump and RFK

Kennedy is a conspiracy theorist who is way too conservative for Democrats in terms of abortion and a gun safety 2nd Amendment absolutist who has backtracked on climate change.

Kennedy family members are against him and feel his views are dangerous.

Finally, there was a discussion about the upcoming convention in Chicago. Night sessions are to be held at the United Center with daytime business at the McCormick Street convention center, The DNC will be posting information about volunteer opportunities in the near future.
